My vision

I saw two roads ending up to two doors. Many people were walking on one road which was wide and big. At the end of that road was a door opened and in it was fire. And the people who were walking towards that door were wearing blindfolds. On the other road, there were fewer people walking on that narrow road. And at the end of that narrow road was a door opened and I could see a cross through that door and there was light shining out. Then God told me that I should keep on praying and preaching the gospel to those people who were walking on the wide road walking towards the fire.
